La comparaison entre le Tableau qui précède et le Tableau correspondant pour 1889 montre un accroissement sensible du nombre des stations :

1° Dans le bassin de la Loire (Loire, du Bec-d'Allier à Angers, Mayenne, Loire inférieure, rive gauche). Là nous avons gagné environ 30 postes nouveaux, créés par la Commission météorologique de Maine-et-Loire, avec le concours de la Société industrielle et agricole de ce département.

2° Dans les bassins du Lot, du Tarn et de l'Aveyron, où une quinzaine de stations nouvelles sont dues à la Commission météorologique de l'Aveyron.

3° Dans l'Aude, où l'ancien réseau pluviométrique a été entièrement reconstitué par M. Rousseau, Conservateur des forêts à Carcassonne.

4° Dans le bassin de la Saône supérieure, grâce aux postes nouveaux installés par la Commission météorologique de la Haute-Saône. Les observations n'avaient jamais été interrompues dans ce département; mais la Commission, reconstituée en juillet 1880 sous la présidence de M. Bouvaist, ingénieur en chef des Ponts et Chaussées, a considérablement étendu le cadre de ses travaux. Le nombre croissant de ses stations et l'important travail qu'elle a publié comme résumé des observations faites en 1890 nous permet de la compter désormais parmi les plus actives de nos Commissions départementales.

5° Dans le bassin du Rhône inférieur, où le département de la Drôme est représenté cette année par 15 stations, dont 12 ont été créées par M. Caprais-Favier, pharmacien à Die, et fonctionnent sous sa direction. M. l'Inspecteur d'Académie a bien voulu s'intéresser aux efforts tentés par M. Caprais-Favier pour mettre le département de la Drôme, au point de vue météorologique, sur le même pied que les départements voisins. Grâce à son bienveillant appui, le concours des instituteurs nous a été acquis et le nombre toujours croissant des stations de la Drôme dépassera 30 en 1892; nous lui adressons, ainsi qu'à M. Caprais-Favier, nos plus sincères remerciements. Nous devons aussi remercier deux observateurs du département, M. U. Martin à Beaurières, et M. Pignet à Livron, qui nous communiquent régulièrement des observations faites avec beaucoup de soin.

Nous avons, en outre, quelques postes nouveaux dans l'Eure, où les observations sont résumées chaque année sous forme de graphiques intéressants, dans Indre-et-Loire, dont le réseau pluviométrique comprend aujourd'hui plus de 35 stations, dans la Manche et dans les Ardennes.

Mentionnons encore les observations faites dans l'arrondissement de Ville-neuve-sur-Lot, sous la direction et par les soins de M. Vivier, ingénieur des Ponts et Chaussées, que nous devons remercier particulièrement de son concours.

Nous publions cette année, pour la première fois, les observations faites à Roscoff par M. Marty, à Grasse par M. Roux, à Digne par M. Giraud, à La Châtre par M. Rouet.

On trouvera en résumé, à la fin du Volume (Compléments), les observations pluviométriques faites par les soins de M. d'Abbadie à Arragori, pendant les années 1887 à 1890.

Une lacune regrettable, qui sera plus sensible encore pour 1891, doit être signalée. La Commission météorologique de Saône-et-Loire, qui, depuis plusieurs années, nous fournissait des observations nombreuses et régulières, a cessé de fonctionner. On ne trouvera, dans le présent Volume, que les nombres relatifs aux sept premiers mois de l'année 1890.

Le Tableau résumé qui termine le Volume contient, comme les années précédentes, les relevés mensuels pour toutes les stations dont les observations sont parvenues au Bureau central météorologique, directement ou par l'intermédiaire du Service hydrométrique du bassin de la Seine. On a maintenu, comme dans les Volumes antérieurs, les totaux trimestriels et le total de l'année. Enfin, la dernière colonne du Tableau se rapporte au nombre annuel des jours de pluie constaté dans chacune des stations qui ont fourni des observations régulières.

On a donné in extenso les relevés journaliers d'environ 930 stations convenablement choisies d'après leur situation topographique et en tenant compte de la régularité et de la qualité des observations. Cette dernière considération nous oblige à éliminer de cette partie du Volume les observations d'un grand nombre d'Écoles normales primaires.

Les hauteurs de pluie sont exprimées en nombres ronds de millimètres et le total mensuel est, dans chaque cas, non pas celui des nombres inscrits aux différentes dates dans le Tableau, mais la somme exacte des pluies partielles consignées par les observateurs. On a indiqué par un zéro les hauteurs inférieures à 0^{mm}, 5; un point indique qu'il n'est pas tombé d'eau. Ajoutons que les observations sont faites le plus souvent à 8^h ou à 9^h du matin, quelquefois à midi, et que le nombre inscrit à une date donnée représente généralement la pluie tombée depuis la veille.

Dans le Tableau résumé, l'altitude des stations est inscrite à la première colonne; lorsque cette indication n'a pas été fournie par l'observateur, nous donnons fréquemment, à titre de renseignement, les cotes de la Carte de l'État-Major. Ces cotes, qui représentent l'altitude du lieu et non celle du pluviomètre, comportent nécessairement quelques incertitudes; pour les distinguer, on les a fait suivre d'un astérisque.

Construction des Cartes. — Le Volume est accompagné de 5 Planches compre-nant 17 Cartes, savoir : la Carte de la pluie totale tombée pendant l'année, 12 Cartes mensuelles et 4 Cartes trimestrielles.

Les courbes qui limitent les hachures passent approximativement par les points où la quantité d'eau est la même ; elles sont tracées de 50^{mm} en 50^{mm} sur les Cartes mensuelles, de 100^{mm} en 100^{mm} sur les Cartes trimestrielles, et de 200^{mm} en 200^{mm} (à partir de 600^{mm}) sur la Carte annuelle.

Toutes les fois qu'il a été possible de le faire, on a tracé sur les Cartes mensuelles la courbe de 25^{mm}, et sur les Cartes trimestrielles la courbe de 50^{mm}. Ces courbes sont souvent intéressantes ; elles mettent en relief les régions où la quantité d'eau tombée est minima.

Premier trimestre de 1890.

Janvier. — Les premiers jours du mois, du 1^{er} au 4, sont secs ou très peu pluvieux pour toute la France, sauf le Midi. Les vents d'Est, dus à un centre de basses pressions qui se tient sur la Méditerranée, déterminent sur tout le littoral, et notamment sur le versant Est, des pluies abondantes qui dépassent 200^{mm} en quatre jours dans les stations élevées des bassins de l'Ardeche, du Gard et de l'Hérault. A Perpignan, dans les journées du 1^{er} et du 2, on a recueilli 220^{mm} d'eau.

Dans la partie supérieure des bassins du Lot, du Tarn et de l'Aveyron, sur le versant Ouest des Cévennes, les pluies sont généralement fortes. On les retrouve, mais très amoindries, dans toute l'étendue de ces bassins et jusque sur le littoral de l'Océan.

Du 4 au 17, les vents dominants sont d'entre Sud et Ouest ; la température est plus douce, les pluies sont fréquentes, sinon très abondantes, partout, sauf sur le versant de la Méditerranée. La plupart des régions, si fortement éprouvées dans les premiers jours du mois, ne reçoivent pas 1^{mm} d'eau dans les quinze jours suivants. Une partie du bassin de l'Aude fait exception ; quelques pluies y sont signalées du 9 au 13.

Du 18 au 29, par vent d'Ouest, avec température douce, les pluies sont abondantes et presque continues sur toute la France. Elles sont faibles cependant sur le littoral même de la Méditerranée. Durant cette période, sous l'influence d'une dépression profonde qui, du 22 au 24, passe au nord de la France, les pluies sont particulièrement fortes entre le 20 et le 24. Les bassins de la Charente, de la Dordogne, du Lot dans l'Ouest, ceux du Rhône moyen et de l'Isère dans l'Est, reçoivent, durant ces quatre jours, une quantité d'eau qui dépasse en moyenne 70^{mm}.

Enfin, dans les deux derniers jours du mois, les fortes pressions envahissent l'Ouest de l'Europe. Le vent souffle du Nord sur la France, la température s'abaisse, la pluie plus faible est accompagnée de neige; celle-ci est abondante dans la région des Pyrénées.

Dans l'ensemble, le mois de janvier est pluvieux; le nombre des jours de pluie est en moyenne de quinze, mais il atteint et dépasse vingt dans des régions étendues de l'Est et du littoral de l'Océan.

La Carte (Pl. II, fig. 1) montre que, sur la plus grande partie de la France, la quantité d'eau recueillie est comprise entre 50^{mm} et 100^{mm}. Elle dépasse 200^{mm} dans la région des Cévennes et dans la partie Sud-Est du bassin de l'Aude; dans la région de la Beauce, dans les vallées de la Seine supérieure, de l'Yonne, du Rhône, de la Loire et de l'Allier supérieurs, elle est inférieure à 50^{mm}. On a recueilli moins de 25^{mm} d'eau en divers points de ces derniers bassins, notamment dans la région de la Drôme.

Février. — Le mois de février est au contraire remarquablement sec.

Du 1^{er} au 12, sauf en quelques points de la Bretagne et du Midi, la pluie est nulle. Le vent se tient entre le Nord et l'Est. Le baromètre reste haut, la température basse.

Du 12 au 17, les faibles pressions venues de l'Océan envahissent l'Ouest de l'Europe; la pluie est générale en France pendant les premiers jours de cette période, mais faible partout, sauf en Bretagne où elle est notable du 12 au 20, et sur le versant de la Méditerranée où des pluies abondantes tombent dans les bassins de la Tech, de l'Aude, de l'Hérault, de l'Ardèche et du Gard.

Du 20 au 24, on constate un nouveau groupe de pluies en général faibles, sauf sur diverses régions du Centre.

Enfin, dans les derniers jours du mois, la pluie reparait sur les points déjà signalés du littoral méditerranéen.

La Carte (Pl. II, fig. 2) fait ressortir le caractère de sécheresse du mois de février.

Sur la moitié de la surface totale de la France, il est tombé moins de 25^{mm} d'eau. La pluie recueillie ne dépasse 50^{mm} que dans la pointe de Bretagne, dans la partie Sud-Ouest du bassin de l'Adour, et dans la région du littoral méditerranéen comprise entre le Rhône et les Pyrénées. Sur le versant Est des Cévennes, elle atteint et dépasse 200^{mm}.

Mars. — Pendant les premiers jours de ce mois, du 1^{er} au 4, les vents dominants sont d'entre Nord et Est; la température est très basse (— 11° le 3 à Paris, — 2° à Nice, — 9° à Bordeaux). Peu de pluies, mais de la neige en Bretagne, sur le littoral Ouest et en Provence.

Du 5 au 11 et du 14 au 25, la température s'est adoucie et la pluie est à peu près générale en France; elle est peu abondante sauf dans le Midi où la région des Pyrénées (Adour), les bassins du Tarn et de l'Aveyron, la région des Cévennes (Hérault et Gard), le bassin de la Durance et la région de Nice reçoivent, notamment du 13 au 18, de grandes quantités d'eau.

Les derniers jours du mois sont secs; la température est exceptionnellement élevée et le régime général, par vent de Sud-Est à Sud-Ouest, est exactement l'opposé du régime des premiers jours.

Dans l'ensemble, le mois de mars est très peu pluvieux. Le nombre moyen des jours de pluies (12 environ) est notable, mais la quantité d'eau tombée est faible.

La Carte (Pl. II, fig. 3) montre, dans le Centre et l'Ouest, des régions étendues où la pluie est inférieure à 25^{mm}. Elle n'est, en général, supérieure à 50^{mm} que dans le Midi et l'Est et sur une superficie qui est à peine le tiers de la surface de la France.

Deuxième trimestre de 1890.

Avril. — Le mois d'avril est froid et très pluvieux.

Du 1^{er} au 5, par vent d'entre Nord et Est, avec baromètre haut, le temps est froid et sec. On ne signale de pluie que dans la région des Pyrénées (bassin de l'Adour), dans celle des Cévennes et sur le littoral de la Méditerranée.

Du 6 au 12 et du 14 au 27, la pluie est générale en France. Durant la première période, le vent souffle de l'Ouest, la température est très basse et des neiges sont signalées en divers points du bassin du Rhône. Les pluies sont surtout abondantes dans la région des Pyrénées; elles sont plus faibles sur le littoral de la Méditerranée. Dans la seconde période, le plateau central, le massif des Cévennes, les bassins de l'Hérault, de l'Ardeche, du Gard, la vallée du Rhône inférieur et la région de Nice reçoivent, notamment du 14 au 19, des pluies très fortes qui dépassent 250^{mm} dans plusieurs stations élevées du versant Est des Cévennes. La pluie cesse sur ces régions le 19. Elle est, en général, assez faible en France du 19 au 21; elle reprend alors jusqu'au 27.

Dans les derniers jours du mois, le temps est beau et sec avec température un peu basse. Les orages, qui ont été fréquents dans le Midi du 14 au 17, reparaissent dans les mêmes régions du 27 au 29. Ils sont accompagnés de pluies assez fortes, le 29, en Provence et dans le bassin de l'Hérault.

La Carte (Pl. II, fig. 4) montre que la quantité d'eau recueillie n'a été inférieure à 50^{mm} que dans un petit nombre de régions peu étendues du Nord et de l'Ouest de la France. Dans deux ou trois stations au plus, elle n'a pas dépassé 25^{mm}.

Mai. — Le mois de mai est plus pluvieux encore que le mois précédent. Les régions où il est tombé moins de 50^{mm} d'eau sont très peu étendues et sur la moitié de la surface de la France la hauteur d'eau recueillie est supérieure à 100^{mm}.

La Carte (Pl. III, fig. 1) met en évidence la distribution très régulière des pluies durant ce mois. La France y semble partagée en deux parties sensiblement égales par une ligne allant de Nancy à l'embouchure de la Gironde. La région située au nord de cette ligne a reçu entre 50^{mm} et 100^{mm} d'eau. La région située au sud a reçu plus de 100^{mm}; deux bandes assez étroites du littoral de la Méditerranée et de l'Océan font seules exception; mais l'eau tombée y est en moyenne supérieure à 80^{mm}.

Il serait difficile de distinguer des groupes bien nets dans les pluies du mois de mai. On peut dire que, en général, du 1^{er} au 20, la pluie a été à peu près continue. Elle cesse ou devient faible du 20 au 25, puis reprend du 25 au 29 pour cesser de nouveau pendant les deux derniers jours du mois.

Le nombre des jours de pluies est en moyenne de dix-huit, et il atteint vingt-cinq dans un certain nombre de stations.

La moyenne barométrique est remarquablement faible; elle est inférieure d'environ 3^{mm} à la normale.

Les orages ont été fréquents pendant tout le mois et principalement dans la première quinzaine; ils se font alors sentir dans le Centre et l'Est. Du 20 au 26, on en signale dans ces mêmes régions et dans le Midi.

Juin. — Le mois de juin est peu pluvieux.

Du 1^{er} au 4, les pluies sont rares et faibles; la température est assez basse, la pression barométrique supérieure à la normale, avec vent des régions Ouest. Les orages sont rares pendant ces premiers jours.

Du 5 au 15, la pluie est à peu près générale; faible jusqu'au 10, elle augmente beaucoup du 11 au 15, et forme, durant ces quatre jours, un groupe très net et qui s'étend à toute la France, sauf le littoral de la Méditerranée. C'est une période d'orages fréquents signalés un peu partout.

Du 15 au 26, le temps est généralement beau.

Enfin, du 26 au 30, sur une baisse assez rapide du baromètre, le régime orageux reparait, surtout dans les régions du Centre et du Midi, et la pluie est principalement abondante en Bretagne et dans la vallée du Rhône et de ses affluents.

La Carte (Pl. III, fig. 2) montre deux régions importantes où la hauteur d'eau recueillie est inférieure à 25^{mm}, l'une s'étend sur tout le littoral de la Méditerranée, l'autre dans la partie Sud-Ouest du versant de l'Océan entre la Gironde et les Pyrénées.

La pluie n'est supérieure à 100^{mm} que dans trois régions peu étendues. Elle dépasse 150^{mm} dans quelques stations élevées des Vosges et de la Savoie.

Troisième trimestre de 1890.

Juillet. — On peut distinguer, dans ce mois, deux périodes pluvieuses assez nettes.

La première s'étend du 1^{er} au 12. La pluie est abondante dans l'Est, sur le versant de la Manche, en Bretagne; un peu moins forte, mais également continue, dans la partie moyenne du versant de l'Océan et dans le Centre; plus faible encore dans les bassins du Lot, du Tarn et de l'Adour où le nombre de jours de pluie est peu considérable. Le versant de la Méditerranée ne reçoit que très peu d'eau.

Pendant cette période, le vent varie de Sud-Ouest à Nord-Ouest; la température reste basse, sauf sur le bassin de la Méditerranée.

Du 13 au 17, la température se relève, le vent dominant est d'entre Sud et Ouest; on n'a à signaler que quelques pluies orageuses très localisées.

Le 17, un brusque retour du vent de Nord-Ouest détermine un nouvel abaissement de température et une seconde période de pluies générales, du 17 au 20, qui se prolongent par places jusqu'au 25. Dans le Midi, surtout dans le Midi méditerranéen, ces pluies sont faibles, et même à peu près nulles dans les bassins de l'Ardèche, du Gard, de la Durance, dans la région de Nice.

Pendant les derniers jours du mois, du 27 au 31, les régions des Cévennes et des Pyrénées reçoivent des pluies assez fortes qui semblent être des manifestations orageuses.

En résumé, le mois de juillet est assez froid, pluvieux et relativement peu orageux.

La Carte (Pl. III, fig. 3) montre deux régions où l'eau recueillie est inférieure à 25^{mm}; l'une embrasse tout le littoral de la Méditerranée, les vallées de la Durance et du Rhône inférieur; l'autre, beaucoup moins étendue, est comprise entre l'Adour et la Gironde.

Dans l'Est et sur le versant de la Manche, on a observé, en général, plus de 100^{mm}, exceptionnellement plus de 150^{mm}. Sur quelques points élevés des Vosges, la pluie a dépassé 200^{mm}.

Août. — Le mois d'août est pluvieux pour l'ensemble de la France; mais dans tout l'Est proprement dit, du bassin de l'Isère à celui de Meurthe-et-Moselle, il est exceptionnellement humide et remarquable aussi bien par le nombre des jours de pluie que par la quantité d'eau tombée. Celle-ci est supérieure à 200^{mm} dans la région des Vosges ainsi que dans les départements du Doubs, du Jura, de l'Ain, de l'Isère, de la haute et basse Savoie.

Pendant les premiers jours du mois, du 1^{er} au 3, la pluie, faible ou abondante, est constatée partout, sauf en Bretagne et sur le littoral de la Méditerranée. Elle cesse généralement le 4; mais, dans les régions de l'Est signalées plus haut, elle persiste jusqu'au 8, puis reprend le 10, et du 10 au 15, ainsi que du 18 au 21, elle est continue.

Les versants de la Manche et la Bretagne, épargnés pendant les premiers jours, reçoivent, à partir du 10, des pluies à peu près ininterrompues dont le total atteint et dépasse 100^{mm} en diverses stations.

La quantité d'eau recueillie est inférieure à 50^{mm} dans la région comprise entre Paris et le versant de l'Océan, de la Loire à la Gironde. Cette région dessine une bande étroite qui comprend la Beauce, la vallée de la Loire au-dessus d'Orléans, celles du Loiret et de la Sèvre Niortaise. Il en est de même sur tout le littoral de la Méditerranée; dans la région de Nice et dans la partie comprise entre les embouchures du Rhône et de l'Aude, la pluie a été inférieure à 25^{mm}.

Septembre. — Du 1^{er} au 5, on a à signaler quelques pluies, en général très faibles, notables seulement sur le versant du Pas-de-Calais. Le baromètre est élevé, la température basse avec vent des régions Nord.

Du 6 au 17, le temps est beau et sec; les vents sont d'entre Nord et Est; le baromètre est encore élevé, mais en baisse.

Du 17 au 24, les vents ont tourné au Sud; de nombreux orages sont signalés par toute la France et la pluie est générale. Elle a une intensité extraordinaire dans la région des Cévennes où quelques stations élevées reçoivent plus de 600^{mm} d'eau en cinq jours. A Montpezat, dans l'Ardèche, on recueille 983^{mm} dont 412^{mm} dans la seule journée du 21 et 195^{mm} le 22. Ces pluies exceptionnelles occasionnent des inondations désastreuses dans la vallée du Rhône, notamment dans les départements de l'Ardèche et du Gard.

Elles cessent à peu près complètement le 24 et les six derniers jours du mois sont beaux et secs avec pression élevée et température normale.

En résumé, le mois de septembre est peu pluvieux pour l'ensemble de la France. Le nombre de jours de pluie est 6 en moyenne et atteint rarement 9.

La Carte (Pl. IV, fig. 1) montre trois régions assez étendues où la quantité d'eau est inférieure à 25^{mm}. Elle est inférieure à 50^{mm} sur une étendue égale à la moitié de la surface totale de la France.

Quatrième trimestre de 1890.

Octobre. — Le mois d'octobre est froid et peu pluvieux.

Du 1^{er} au 15, nous n'avons à signaler que deux petits groupes de pluie, comprenant chacun un ou deux jours, le 1^{er} et le 2 d'une part, le 7 et le 8 de l'autre. Ces pluies sont faibles partout et à peu près nulles dans le Midi.

Du 15 au 20 et du 24 au 31, la pluie est générale. Elle est assez abondante dans l'Est, sur le versant de la Manche et dans la région des Pyrénées.

Le nombre des jours de pluie varie de 3 à 6 sur le littoral de la Méditerranée; il atteint 18 en divers points du littoral de la Manche. Il est, en moyenne, de 13 à 14.

La Carte (Pl. IV, fig. 2) résume les pluies du mois d'octobre et ne présente aucune particularité remarquable.

Novembre. — Pendant le mois de novembre, le nombre des jours de pluie est considérable, et la quantité d'eau recueillie est, en moyenne, sensiblement supérieure à la normale.

Du 1^{er} au 15, il pleut tous les jours et sur toute la France, sauf le littoral de la Méditerranée, où le nombre des jours de pluie, durant cette première quinzaine, varie de 4 à 9.

Dans le Midi, la pluie cesse, en général, le 12; elle est particulièrement abondante dans la région des Pyrénées et le bassin de l'Adour, où la quantité d'eau tombée dépasse fréquemment 300^{mm} et est, en moyenne, voisine de 200^{mm}.

Au contraire, dans l'Est, le Nord, sur le versant de la Manche et la Bretagne, la pluie, moins abondante, se fait sentir à peu près sans interruption jusqu'au 25. Les derniers jours du mois sont généralement beaux sur ces régions, avec une température très basse. C'est le commencement du rigoureux hiver de 1890-1891 et d'une période de froids continus qui s'étend jusqu'à la fin de mars 1891.

Des neiges assez abondantes sont signalées sur divers points, notamment en Bretagne; on en signale le 23 à Nice.

Dans le Midi et le bassin du Rhône, après les pluies de la première quinzaine, nous retrouvons quelques jours pluvieux du 22 au 26. Sur le littoral de la Méditerranée, le temps reste sec jusqu'à la fin du mois.

Les pluies du mois de novembre sont résumées Pl. IV, fig. 3. Au voisinage de l'embouchure de l'Aude, on voit une région peu étendue de la côte où la quantité d'eau recueillie est inférieure à 25^{mm}; elle n'est inférieure à 50^{mm} que sur la partie Sud du versant de la Méditerranée et en quelques points du Centre.

Elle dépasse 100^{mm} sur tout le littoral de la Manche, dans le Nord et l'Est jusqu'en Savoie et dans la région comprise entre la Charente et les Pyrénées, où elle atteint son maximum.

Décembre. — Le mois de décembre est remarquablement froid et sec. Les vents, d'entre Sud et Est durant les premiers jours, se fixent à l'Est le 5 et y restent jusqu'à la fin du mois.

Pour l'ensemble de la France, on peut distinguer deux groupes de pluies.

Le premier, du 3 au 5, est assez important dans la région des Cévennes et sur le littoral de la Méditerranée où il commence le 2 et même le 1^{er} pour finir le 7 seulement en divers points de l'Ardèche et du Gard. Il est très faible dans les vallées du Rhône, de la Loire et de l'Allier supérieurs et dans la partie moyenne du versant de l'Océan.

- Le second groupe, du 17 au 20, se distribue sensiblement comme le premier. Il prend, comme lui, une intensité plus grande en divers points du Midi, tels que les bassins de l'Adour, de la Tech, de l'Aude, de l'Hérault, de l'Ardèche. Il se prolonge jusqu'au 22 ou 23 sur le littoral de la Méditerranée.

Les derniers jours du mois sont, en général, très secs. La pluie reparait cependant le 30 dans quelques régions du Centre, en Bretagne, et dans les bassins de l'Aude, de l'Hérault, de l'Ardèche, où elle est assez forte.

Le nombre des jours pluvieux pendant le mois de décembre est, en moyenne, 6 ou 7; il atteint et dépasse 12 dans la région de Nice.

La Carte (Pl. IV, fig. 4) montre que, sur les deux tiers de la surface totale de la France, la quantité d'eau recueillie est inférieure à 25^{mm}. Elle ne dépasse 50^{mm} que dans une région peu étendue du bassin de l'Adour et sur le littoral de la Méditerranée. On observe plus de 200^{mm} sur le versant Est des Cévennes, dans les bassins de l'Orb et de l'Hérault.

Résumé.

La Carte (Pl. I) résume les pluies de 1890.

Pour l'ensemble de la France, la quantité d'eau recueillie se rapproche de la moyenne, en restant peut-être un peu en dessous de cette moyenne.

La hauteur d'eau est inférieure à 600^{mm} sur une étendue considérable, entre les côtes de l'Océan, au sud de la Bretagne, et la vallée de la Seine. Elle n'atteint pas 500^{mm} en un grand nombre de points de cette région.

Sur le littoral de la Méditerranée au voisinage de l'embouchure du Rhône, dans les vallées de la Gironde et de l'Allier, on remarque d'autres minima beaucoup moins importants.

On a constaté plus de 1600^{mm} dans la région des Cévennes, dans les Vosges, en quelques points des Pyrénées. Dans un grand nombre de stations du versant oriental des Cévennes, la pluie a dépassé 2^m. Les dimensions de la Carte n'ont pas permis de tracer, dans cette région trop restreinte, les courbes de 1800^{mm} et 2000^{mm}.
